

The NEURAL EXPERIENCE:
The ASD Universe, The Brain and
Auditory Integration Training.

Marcy McCarthy will centre discussion on how children's and adults' neural circuitry changes in response to experiential interventions such as Auditory Integration Training. The brain has amazing capacity to re-wire and re-route neurons. However, therapists must be aware of developmental stages which children must progress through. By providing and facilitating thoughtful and sequenced therapy, the children will progress faster and gain greater confidence to engage in the social world.

Join us for a fascinating and controversial journey into the neural world. Ms McCarthy promises a lively presentation, bring your questions!
